

FIA Survey: How safe is your fleet?

26/04/2010

SHARE

Read more:

GO

Fleet News has linked up with the FIA Foundation on a European survey to establish views from fleet operators about safety and assistance systems.

The survey asks fleets to rank in importance key vehicle criteria, such as safety, reliability, engine power, Euro NCAP, and CO2 emissions, and asks whether they have safety systems such as electronic stability control on their vehicles.

The project is called eSafetyChallenge and is funded by the European Commission.

All participants will get the results for free. They can also register for a personal invitation by the FIA Foundation to eSafetyChallenge 2010 on July 13, also for free.

The Challenge will focus on innovative vehicle safety technologies and the potential for lives to be saved on the roads through increased deployment of these technologies.

Click here to take part in the fleet safety survey.

Author

Sharon Sim

Your Comments

No comments.

Related

Euro NCAP ESC test results and videos
30/03/2010

UPDATE Kia Venga issue resolved
03/03/2010

Euro NCAP latest crash test results published
03/03/2010

ING to be split in two
26/10/2009

Project promises improved transport planning
28/09/2009

Running Costs Calculator

Looking to acquire a new vehicle? Before you do check how much it will cost to run with our Running Cost Calculator.

Click here.

Car Tax

Top Stories Most Shared Recently Viewed

Calls mount for a hands free ban
19/04/2010

Fleet Poll: How do you repay your drivers for their business fuel?
22/04/2010

CE Electric signs up to 'Driving for Better Business' campaign
25/02/2010

Show more

FleetNewsPoll

How much do you pay your grey fleet drivers for business mileage? Leave a comment telling us what you pay.

CAST YOUR VOTE

View all online polls

Fleet Insight Fleet Predictions

